

It's like reaching for the stars, while keeping your feet planted firmly on the ground.

At Chicago Title Insurance Company, we're backed by the unrivaled financial strength of Fidelity National Financial, Inc. (NYSE: FNF).

A key factor of FNF's financial strength is the company's conservative, high-quality investment portfolio. For safety and security, fixed maturities and short-term investments held by FNF title insurers and other subsidiaries comprise the majority of this portfolio.

Together with our claims reserves and enhanced claims management process, our conservative investment portfolio adds up to a rock-solid balance sheet with limited underwriting risk.

This is how we established our history of creating value for our shareholders. You can feel secure knowing your real estate transactions are backed by FNF – the company grounded in the wisdom of fiscal prudence.

